

Self Guided Tour of Jupiter Open-Space Properties

Suggested Driving Tour

Begin at the intersection of Central Boulevard and Indiantown Road, just east of the Chasewood Shopping plaza and across from Wal-Mart. The parcel (Map #6) on the northwest corner of the intersection is approximately 10 acres and was purchased in September of 2008.

Take a left onto Center Street, and just past the intersection on your right (east side) will be Sims Creek Preserve (Map #5). This 2.82 acre parcel was purchased in November of 2005 and is bordered on two sides by Sims Creek.

Continue down Center Street, and make a right-hand turn onto Pennock Lane. Continue south on Pennock, across the intersection of Indiantown Road. Just before the intersection of Toney Penna Drive and just north of the Aquatic Center is Jones Creek Hammock (Map #2). Jones Creek Hammock was acquired by the Town in 1987 as part of a land transfer and added to the Jupiter Open Space Program's list of natural preserves in 2006. It is 20 acres and has a publicly accessible nature trail and boardwalk.

At the intersection of Pennock and Toney Penna Drive, take a left and head west to Maplewood. Take a right on Maplewood, continuing to Indiantown Road, then take a right on Indiantown to head east. On the north side of Indiantown Road between Jones Creek and North Delaware Blvd is Delaware Scrub (Map #4). This 15.88 acre parcel was purchased in May, 2005.

Continuing east on Indiantown Road is Jones Creek Preserve (Map #3) on the south side of the road, immediately south of Delaware Scrub. This 1.36 acre preserve was purchased in July, 2005.

From Delaware Scrub, continue east on Indiantown Road to the intersection of Alternate A1A. Turn north (left) on Alternate A1A, and continue to the entrance of Sawfish Bay Park, just south of the Alternate A1A bridge. From the southern end of Sawfish Bay Park, closest to the historical marker, look southeast to Fullerton Island (Map #1). Fullerton Island was purchased in 2008, and is 12 acres.
