Town Joins with Palm Beach County for Beach Renourishment Projects

The Town Council approved an interlocal agreement with Palm Beach County for beach renourishment at its May 4 meeting. Under the 30-year agreement, the County will execute beach renourishment projects every seven years and dune restoration every 15 years. The County will be responsible for seeking federal and state funding for the projects while the Town will pay for 10% of costs, not to exceed $950,000 in the first year of the agreement and $250,000 a year in each following year, after any federal funds are applied to the total cost of the project. The first renourishment project is scheduled for 2022.

Public Hearing to Consider Stormwater Fee Increase

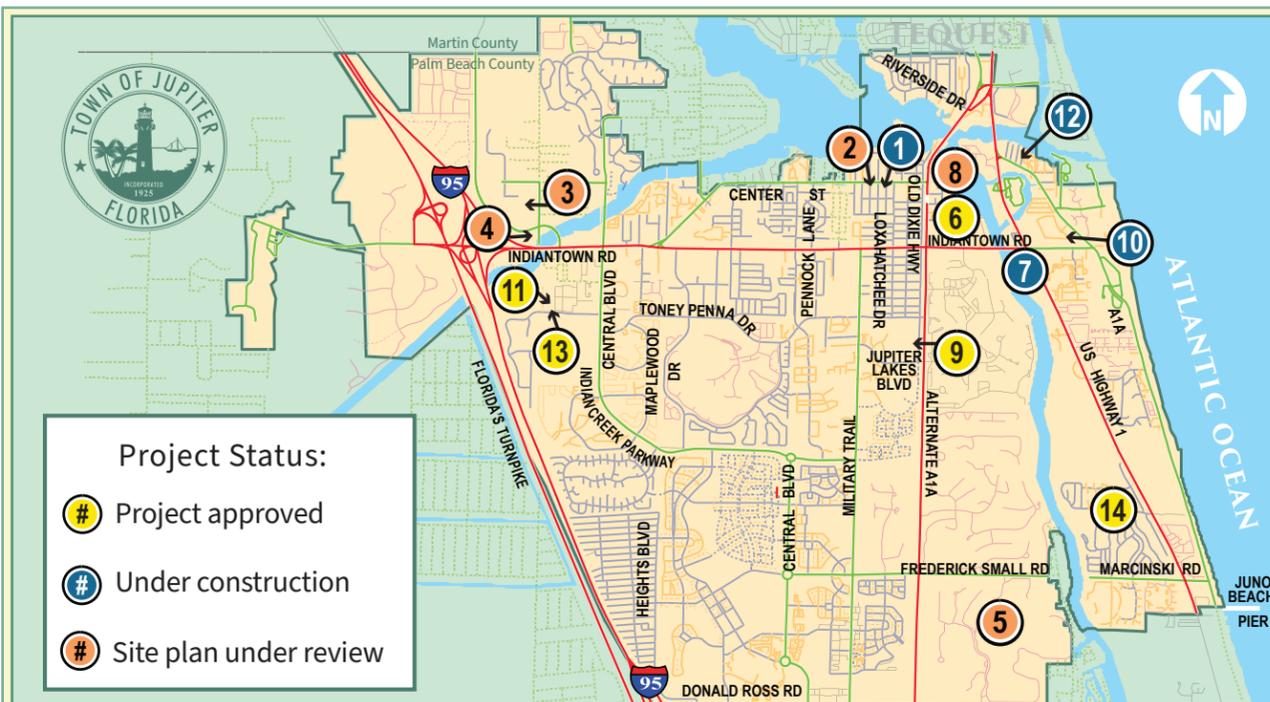

At its regular meeting on August 17, the Jupiter Town Council will consider an adjustment to the monthly fee charged for stormwater services (see tables below).

| Stormwater Utility Fee (proposed 1.1% increase) | Oct. 1, 2020 | Oct. 1, 2021 |
|---|--------------|--------------|
| Average residential monthly stormwater bill | $6.10/mo. | $6.17/mo. |

Should the proposed rate increases be adopted by Council, new rates would take effect October 1, 2021. Please call 561-741-2300 with any questions you may have.

The proposed adjustment is intended to do the following:

- Enhance stormwater runoff quality to the Loxahatchee River to effectively mitigate existing water quality impairments;
- Minimize the risk of flooding;
- Maintain rates for service consistent with the cost of service; and
- Support the sustainability of the utility's financial plan including funding for renewal and replacement of aging assets.

Beach Bucket Clean-Up Stations Now Around Town

Looking for a way to help the local environment on your next walk, park visit or trip to the beach? Grab a bucket at one of the Town's new bucket clean-up stations and make your outdoor activities a win for you and the community.

- Abacoa Community Park, 1501 W Frederick Small Road
- Jupiter Community Park, 3377 Church Street

Homestead Exemption Outreach

September 8 • October 13 • November 10 • December 8

Floridians know that something unique about living in a state where so many people love to vacation is the Homestead Exemption that is filed with your property taxes. Although this exemption only needs to be filed once for each property and will then carry over annually, it is important for first-time filers to know the requirements and deadlines for this tax exemption that can significantly reduce your property tax.

Staff from the Palm Beach County Property Appraiser's Office, Division of Education Services, will be on-hand at the Jupiter Community Center at dedicated times September through December to help you submit your Homestead Exemption application and answer any property valuation questions you may have. If you are looking for Homestead Exemption assistance, plan to attend any one of the following sessions: 2 to 3 pm on September 8, October 13, November 10 and December 8. All sessions will be held in the Jupiter Community Center (200 Military Trail, Jupiter FL 33458).

Some helpful information to know about the Homestead Exemption is you must hold the legal title to a residential property by January 1 of the application year, and the property for which you are seeking exemption must be your primary, permanent residence. You also must be a legal resident of Florida by January 1 of the initial application year.

There are also different types of Homestead Exemptions that can be applied for, including; the up to $25,000 Homestead Exemption; the additional $25,000 Homestead Exemption; a Senior Citizen Exemption; a $5,000 Disabled Veterans Exemption; a Combat-disabled Senior Veterans Exemption; and a $500 Widow/Widower Exemption.

Applications are accepted by mail or in-person at any time throughout the year, but in order for the exemption to be considered for the upcoming tax year, the application must be received by March 1 of the qualifying year. A copy of your deed and proof of residency is required for filing. For proof of residency, you may submit a copy of your Florida driver's license, voter registration or permanent residency card. In lieu of a pending permanent resident alien card, the Federal Form I485, "Approval Notice for Application to adjust to Permanent Resident Status," is accepted.

Should you have any questions ahead of time, please contact Mike Pratt at 561-355-4021 or mpratt@pbcgov.org.

Be a Good Neighbor - Mind Your Parking!

The Town of Jupiter updated its parking regulations in 2012 to address a number of parking issues that were of concern to the Town and its residents. As a reminder, regulations are in force in Jupiter that clarify what is permitted when parking passenger cars, trucks, boats, trailers or recreational vehicles in the front, side, side corner or rear yards or in swales.

Practicing proper parking will not only keep you from being cited, but will provide a safer environment for pedestrians and cyclists. For instance, a vehicle is improperly parked over a sidewalk if pedestrians must walk into a street to get around it. Improper parking may impact bike safety and child safety, and create hazards for individuals with mobility limitations.

Residents should also be aware that vehicles parked on front yards have the potential to block the visibility of the front door of a home or limit the emergency access to a home.

Additionally, it is also a violation to park cars or recreational vehicles overnight in a public right of way, such as along A1A.

So be a good neighbor and be sure to properly park your cars, boats and recreational vehicles. You'll avoid a ticket and you'll be doing your part to help increase the safety of our streets and neighborhoods.

Ask the Expert: Steps to Prevent Stormwater Flooding

With the rainy season upon the South Florida area, the focus on stormwater and drainage maintenance is important to prevent flooding of Town streets, businesses and homes. We spoke with Dave Rotar, Stormwater Utility Coordinator to learn more about how residents can help prevent flooding.

Q: What comprises the stormwater system in the Town of Jupiter?

A: The stormwater system consists of drainage structures (inlets), pipes, swales, exfiltration trenches, both wet and dry detention ponds, and pump stations.

Q: How does stormwater differ from wastewater?

A: Wastewater (also referred to as sewer water) is the water that leaves a home's or business' plumbing system and is carried by a network of pipes to the wastewater treatment plant.

Stormwater is created as the result of rainfall. The rain water that is not absorbed into the ground becomes surface runoff which flows into nearby stormwater drains and into surface waterways.

Q: Does stormwater undergo any treatment before being discharged from the Town of Jupiter system?

A: Stormwater does receive some treatment before being discharged into the canals, creeks, Intracoastal Waterway and Loxahatchee River. Treatment occurs naturally in swales, detention ponds and exfiltration trenches when the rate of flow of the runoff is reduced allowing pollutants to settle and be removed prior to discharging to receiving waters.

Grassed swales also help to filter the rainwater and remove sediments, heavy metals and hydrocarbons such as oil and grease.

Meanwhile, exfiltration systems and detention ponds are effective in removing excessive nutrients in runoff. Exfiltration trenches help to slow down the flow of the stormwater in the pipes and also provide some storage of the runoff. Within exfiltration trenches, water is allowed to seep into the soil surrounding the trench which helps with treatment of the stormwater and recharges the groundwater in the area.

In a natural stream or wetland, nutrients can cause problems by encouraging too much plant growth. Plants in the wet detention ponds use these same nutrients to fuel growth, so fewer of these pollutants enter the natural streams and wetlands. Insects and micro-organisms living in the pond's mud can also help remove pollutants from the stormwater. Detention ponds are maintained to control vegetative growth and periodically remove accumulated sediment.

Q: Does stormwater discharge cause algae blooms in the Loxahatchee River or any of our other water assets?

A: The Town of Jupiter and the surrounding municipalities have been very fortunate that algae blooms have not occurred in the Loxahatchee River. Our river's watershed is not directly connected to Lake Okeechobee or other areas with nutrient impaired runoff. However, there is always a potential for algae blooms, which is why the Town has taken steps to help reduce this possibility by constructing stormwater treatment systems, actively maintaining drainage systems and implementing other best management practices such as limiting nutrient-containing fertilizer use during the rainy season.

Q: What does the Town of Jupiter do to help mitigate flooding?

A: The Town of Jupiter's Stormwater Utility actively inspects major outfalls and drainage structures before and after a large rainfall event. We also maintain the pump stations and drainage systems owned by the Town. With the forecasted effects of climate change and sea level rise, the Town also has begun to implement adaptation measures to minimize impacts to low-lying areas effected by tides. In many areas, the utility has begun to install check valves in the drainage system to help keep the rising tide from flowing backward from the river and Intracoastal Waterway into the drainage system.

Q: What can residents do to help mitigate flooding on their property?

A: Residents can help by ensuring the swale areas along their properties and stormwater structures are not blocked or covered by yard waste so that these systems can function properly. When we have a large rainfall event and residents notice that a storm drain is not draining the water, they can rake any debris off of the inlet structures. Homeowners also need to ensure that any plantings, driveway modifications or other improvements do not impede runoff or its conveyance to outfalls and should also make sure that downspouts direct the water from the roof away from the home.

Q: Outside of helping to prevent flooding, are there any other benefits to the stormwater efforts of both the Town and residents?

A: Working together we can minimize the risk of flooding through maintenance of our drainage systems while also collectively striving to enhance the quality of stormwater reaching local waters such as the Loxahatchee River. Residents should continually be aware of the potential harm that any pollutant entering the stormwater system may have on our local waterways. Of course if there are any concerns or further questions, our Stormwater Utility staff is ready to assist. Residents and business owners should not hesitate to call on us for assistance at (561) 741-2705.
